DARCY DE KNAYTH, BARONESS. VIOLET IDA EVELYN Herbert (née Lane-Fox), Bnss. 16th in line (Eng.), by mrrge. Ctss. of Powis: younger dau. of 15th Bn. D. (de jure) and 12th Bn. Conyers (who died 1888); b. June 1, 1865; title called out of abeyance 1903, having, through the misapprehension stated below, been dormant from 1778; mar. 1890 4th E. of Powis, under whose name refer for heirs and relatives. Res., 26 Grosvenor Gdns., S.W.

CREATION. Eng.: Bn. Darcy de Knayth, 1332 by writ, called out of abeyance by patent with former precedence and limitations 1641, and again on investigation in 1903. —The 1st Bn. was John Darcy, brother of Philip, 8th Bn. Darcy of Nocton, whose line is presumed to have been in abeyance from his death about 1340 up till now. The 1st Bn. of the line of 1332 was distinguished in the Scottish wars. His successor married Elizabeth, Bnss. Meinill in her own right, thus giving occasion to the view that this title also accrued to the petitioners in the late suit (see "Conyers"). Her descendant the 6th Bn. D. and 5th Bn. M. died in 1418 without male issue, whereupon his titles both fell into abeyance, which endured as to them both until 1641, when Conyers Darcy, who was descended through his mother from the lines of both Darcy and Conyers, received two patents of "restitution and creation" according him the titles of Bn. Darcy and Bn. Conyers. This is regarded by Nicolas as a new and distinct creation, leaving the old Barony by writ in its existing abeyance —especially as the patent limited the succession to heirs male. But in the argument before the Committee of Privileges it was demonstrated that this limitation was an error as being contrary to the terms of the title which it was expressly meant to restore; hence the conclusion that in 1778 the late creation expired and the older one remained as in 1428 is pronounced erroneous, for the abeyance had been terminated in 1641, and the title really passed, together with that of Conyers, to the wife of the Marq. of Carmarthen, and from her to the 6th and 7th Dukes of Leeds. The 2nd Bn. Darcy and Conyers was created Earl of Holderness, and that title endured up till the death of the 4th Earl in the above year 1778. The joint titles of Darcy and Conyers also, as now corrected, existed de jure up till 1888, when they did in reality fall into abeyance between two sisters, to each of whom, by the successive determinations of 1892 and 1903, one of the two titles has been assigned (another Bny., that of Fauconberg, going also to the possessor of that of Conyers). There are five Bnies. of Darcy mentioned by Nicolas, all of the same original house, and the above 1st Bn. Darcy and Conyers derived his descent from the Knayth line through the medium of that of Darcy of Darcy: another line was that of Darcy of Navan; a fourth, that of Nocton, is mentioned above; and the fifth was that of Chiche, out of which the Colchester Viscty. is stated to have arisen.

DARCY DE KNAYTH AND CONYERS, BARON'S WIDOW. The LADY D. de K. & C. (Mary, dau. of the late Regd. Curteis), mar. 1860 12th Bn. Conyers, posthumously established to have been de jure also 15th Bn. Darcy de Knayth (d. 1888, when both Bnies. fell into abeyance, that of Conyers being "determined" in 1892 and that of Darcy in 1903—see preceding art. and also "Conyers"); is mother of the preceding, and also of Bnss. Fauconberg and Conyers. Res., 9 Lowndes Sq., S.W. 1.

CREATIONS. Irel.: Bn. Clifton (of Rathmore), 1721; Visc. Darnley, 1723; E. of Darnley, 1725.—Jno. Bligh, M.P. for Meath, son of the Rt. Hon. Thos. Bligh, was the 1st Irish Peer (all three titles). The older English Barony, Clifton of Leighton Bromswold, has become a separate Peerage; it came to the 1st Earl by marriage with Theodosia, 4th in line from Sir Gervase Clifton, who was made 1st Bn.; but, being a Barony by writ and thus open to female succession, it passed at the decease of the late 7th Peer to the daughter who was his sole issue. The courtesy-title borne by the eldest son therefore represents the Irish Barony.

DE.—Note on the treatment of that Prefix in this work:

This prefix, which is usually either French or Dutch in its origin, has been adopted in many names of our own aristocracy and others, and is then sometimes combined with the name as a single word. In alphabetising we mostly treat it and similar prefixes (including even "Castle" and "Mount") precisely as if they were all thus conjoined. In the list that follows, however, there are many names or titles which are foreign altogether, and in the case of these we have hesitated as to entering the names under the prefix, for this often seems on its very face like entering an English title under the word "Of." In fact, the unsightliness of that plan in the eyes of a foreigner has been so urged upon us that we have felt compelled to forego the practical convenience of uniformity, and to remove from the prefix to the leading word such names as appear to be territorial titles preceded by de or de la, van, van der, or von. The Italian di is never made the leading word, and our French adviser informs us that the practice in France is similarly to disregard all prefixes, whether prepositions or articles. This is a clear and consistent rule, but for our English use we are not at present prepared to adopt it in the case of an article. Hence a complication arises. The Editor was informed about 25 years ago that the authorities of the British Museum were disposed to make the distinction rigorous, and to carry it to the extent of entering names in de la under la, and those in van der under der; but they did not adopt that plan, and without some high authority neither shall we. But, again, we have the inseparable prefixes containing both preposition and article—du and des in French, della in Italian, and da in Portuguese, and in all these cases the prefix is to lead. In other instances the rules we shall endeavour to follow are these: An article alone (French le or la and Dutch de) is also always to be the leading word; a preposition alone is not to lead if the title appears to be territorial and not a part of the surname; and the compounds de la and van der are to be treated as simple prepositions, just as if there was no article in the case. It is, however, but a minority of our entries that will be affected by these alterations, and references will be given whenever it appears that a name would reasonably be looked for elsewhere. As to capitalising the prefix, experience has shown that no rule can be laid down, each family having its own preference for De or de, though we may presume that the former denotes an essential part of the original name, and the latter points to a territorial association.

The 11th to 13th Bns. were also Earls of Cumberland, but that title now passed to a brother and shortly became extinct. The titles of Countess of Dorset, Earl of Thanet, and Countess of Leicester appear subsequently in the line, but the old Barony eventually emerged as a title by itself.

Buckhurst, 1864.—The original creation of the De La Warr Barony was in 1299, its recipient being Roger La Warr, who had attended Edward I. in his wars with France; but the line fell into abeyance in 1554, together with that of West (1342 and 1402), conferred on Sir Thos. West (who had fought under the 3rd Edward), and repeated to his grandson of same name, the title having by marriage become merged in that of De La Warr. The abeyance was never formally terminated, but a nephew of the latest Bn., Sir Wm. West (Kt.), who had served in the English Army in France, was re-created in the title of De La Warr in 1572. The 7th in his line, a General in the Army and Knight of the Bath, who had been Governor of New York and of Guernsey, was elevated to the Earldom. The family name of West became altered by the marriage of the 5th Earl with Lady Eliz. Sackville, daughter of the 3rd Duke of Dorset. On the death in 1843 of the 5th Duke, with extinction of his male line, the Earl prefixed his surname to that of West; the 7th Earl dropped West altogether. The above Lady Elizabeth was created Bnss. Buckhurst, and the 4th son of her marriage with the 5th Earl obtained the Sackville Bny. (q.v.).

CREATIONS. Eng.: E. of Derby, 1485; a Bt. 1628. U.K.: Bn. Stanley of Bickerstaffe, 1832; Bn. Stanley of Preston, 1886 (Peerage granted to late Earl whilst his bro. held the Earldom).—Sir Thos. Stanley, K.G., Lord Lieut. of Ireland for six years and Comptroller and Chamberlain to Henry VI., was raised to the Peerage in 1456 by the title Bn. Stanley, his son being advanced to the Earldom in recognition of his services at the Battle of Bosworth Field, where he placed King Richard's crown upon the head of Richmond. Sir Edwd. Stanley, 2nd son of this 1st Earl, figured later on at Flodden Field, being rendered famous by "the last words of Marmion." For this service he was raised to the Peerage by Henry VIII. as Bn. Monteagle (of Hornby Castle, Lancs.), a title which has been in abeyance from about 1686. The original Barony of Stanley also fell into abeyance between daughters on the death of the 8th Earl (the Earldom itself going to a brother), and the title Stanley of Bickerstaffe, granted to the 13th Earl, is apparently its form of revival. The 14th Earl, the well-known statesman of the middle of last century, was summoned to the Lords in his father's lifetime by the title of this last Barony. He entered the Commons in 1821, and held various offices during his career in both Houses (under Lord Goderich and others) till himself appointed Premier in 1852, 1858, and 1866. He was Chancellor of Oxford University and author of a blank-verse translation of the "Iliad." His sons the 15th and 16th Earls also had distinguished careers in both Houses of Parliament, the former having been Secretary of State for India, Foreign Affairs, and the Colonies, whilst the latter was Secretary for War and the Colonies and Governor-General of Canada.

CREATION. Bn. de Ros, Eng. 1264 by writ, Premier Baron of England on the Roll, and as such the late Peer did homage for the Barons at the Coronation of 1902.—Robert de Ros, one of the Barons who took a leading part against Henry III, and grandson of one of the 25 appointed to enforce the observance of Magna Charta, was awarded this title by Sir Simon de Montfort, and the House of Lords in 1841 allowed this title and that of Le Despencer to stand as from that date (see note in "Historic Peerage"). Sir H. Nicolas, who spells the name "de Roos," enumerates five Bns. by tenure previous to the above Robert. The 4th Bn. de Ros led the 2nd division of the English army at Crecy. The 13th Bn., Thos. Manners (female succession having caused a change in the surname), was created Earl of Rutland, but on the death of the 6th Earl (18th Bn.) this title passed to a brother, and then on the latter's death to a cousin, who is the founder of the line of the present Dukedom. The Barony went to the previous Earl's daughter, who married Geo. Villiers, 1st Duke of Buckingham (assassinated 1628). Their son became 2nd Duke and 20th Bn. He died without issue in 1687, when the Dukedom expired and the Barony fell into abeyance until 1806, when that condition was terminated in favour of Charlotte, daughter of Hon. Robt. Boyle-Walsingham and wife of Ld. Henry FitzGerald, descended on her mother's side from the above 6th Earl's sister: she assumed the additional name of De Ros after FitzGerald, but the marriage of the present Baroness has effected another change.

July 14, 1870; suc. 1904 (C.); unmrrd. Seats, Powderham Castle, Exeter; The Castle, Newcastle West, Co. Limerick; Walreddon Manor, Tavistock; Ford House, Newton Abbot, Devon.

Creations. Eng.: E. of Devon, 1553; a Bt. 1644. "Lord Courtenay" is the courtesy-title of an eldest son. —This Earldom has been five times extinct and once dormant, and the history of its line given in 'Burke' records four attainders and four beheadings (two of the latter by order of Edward IV. for their devotion to the Lancastrian side, a third falling at Tewkesbury at the head of Margaret's rearguard). Its earliest appearance is in the reign of Henry I., the surname then being De Redvers; but on the death of the 9th Earl this line came to an end. The title was revived some 60 years later to the Courtenays, who by marriage had become connected with the older line. Other creations followed under the 7th and 8th Henries, the latest of these being accompanied with the dignity of Marq. of Exeter; but its holder, on losing Henry's favour, was attainted and beheaded. The final creation was made by Queen Mary, and in the person of Edwd. Courtenay, son of Henry VIII.'s late victim; but on the death of this Earl, in 1566, the title became dormant and so remained for 265 years (except that another Earl, who left no successor, was created in 1603), until in 1831 it was awarded by the House of Lords to the 3rd Visc. Courtenay. On his decease four years later the Viscounty became extinct, but the Earldom has this time survived, though with the usual accompaniment of a conflict as to the number who may be regarded as Earls de jure. Only a few of this last creation have actually borne or even claimed the title, but the late Mr. Cokayne enumerated 33 when all are told from the first creation.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Bn. Cavendish of Hardwick, 1605; E. of Devonshire, 1618; D. of Devonshire and M. of Hartington, 1694. U.K.: E. of Burlington and Bn. Cavendish of Keighley, 1831 (titles awarded to a younger bro. of 5th Duke).—Sir Wm. Cavendish, Kt. of the Bath, obtained the Barony and Earldom, the 4th Earl being created Duke and Marquess. The Cavendishes were a Suffolk family, who migrated to Derbyshire. The 7th Duke was a K.G., Chancellor of Oxford University, and a Senator of that of London. His successor, the 8th Duke, also a K.G., was long known in the House of Commons as the Marquess of Hartington, and he there for six years was the chosen leader of the Liberal Party (afterwards L.U.), Mr. Gladstone having retired from vexation at their electoral defeat in 1874, though eagerly returning to the leadership and the "spoils of office" when victory was achieved in 1880. The late Duke, however, held in succession the posts of Secretary for War (twice), for India, Chief Secretary for Ireland, Postmaster-General, a Lord of the Admiralty, and Lord President of the Council, whilst at his death he was Chancellor of the two Universities of Cambridge and Manchester.

No record exists of any family connection with the county of the title, but we have been obligingly supplied by Mr. Cokayne with a solution of its origin. As noted above, it was previously an Earldom, and the titles of Earls used formerly to be habitually taken from some county, so, as that of Derby was already appropriated, Devonshire was selected as the next in order that was vacant.

The three forms will here be indexed together as all in conventional usage either "Dillon" only or that name with "Lee" prefixed. We, however, have Lord Dillon's repeated authority for asserting that for some 150 years the strict family name has been Dillon-Lee, assumed originally by Hon. Chas. Dillon, aftds. 12th Visc., on inheriting the estates of his maternal uncle the 3rd E. of Litchfield (an extinct line bearing the patronymic Lee). (All the names are "Hon.")

The 7th Visc. was outlawed in 1690 for having raised the Dillon Regiment in support of James II.  The late Baronet wrote to us in 1904 expressing an objection to our term "2nd heir," or rather to the use of the word "heir" at all. There appears to exist an old legal pronouncement, "Nemo hæres est viventis" (No one is heir of a living person); but in Johnson's quarto Dictionary we find the leading definition "One that is inheritor of anything after its present possessor," and this is fortified by quotations from Locke, Shakespeare, Pope, and Swift; whilst the frequent employment of the word in Scripture (e.g. "One born in my house is mine heir," Gen. xv. 3; and "This is the heir, let us kill him," Matt. xxi. 38) is surely, in conjunction with the preceding, abundant justification for what is now the all but universal usage.

The 1st Bt. was 2nd son of 2nd Bn. Duffus, and the 3rd Bt. assumed that title. But his son left no issue, and a nephew succeeded to the Btcy.

('Burke' still gives 1274 in his summary of creations, and the late Peer gave same date to ourselves, but neither authority makes mention of any summons being issued in that year.) He was younger brother of an Earl of Carrick (created by Edward II. and soon extinct). The 10th Bn. obtained the patent. The 21st Bn. was R.C. Bishop of Cork. The late Baron, formerly Sen. EGLINTON and WINTON, Earl of. Archibald Seton Montgomerie (pron. Montgummery), 16th E. of Eglinton and 9th of Winton (Scot.), sits as E. of Winton (U.K.); a D.L. for Ayrsh., Hered. Sheriff of Renfrewsh., late Maj. Ayrsh. Yeo., served during Europ. War 1914-8, as Camp Comdt., formerly A.D.C., Capt. 2nd Life Gds., and A.D.C. to Gen. Sir A. Hunter: son of 14th E.; b. Creations. Scot.: Ld. Montgomerie, 1449; E. of Eglinton, 1508, new patent 1615 (with orig. precedence). U.K.: Bn. Ardrossan, 1806; E. of Winton, 1859.—Alex. Montgomerie, who had been employed by the Scottish Government on important Embassies to England, obtained the 1st Lordship of M.; while Geo. Seton who had been similarly made use of, received the companion Peerage. The 3rd Ld. M. was made Earl of Eglinton, and the 6th Ld. S. made Earl of Winton. The 6th Earl of E., known from his bravery as "Graysteel," was an active supporter of the Parliament during the Civil War, and fought at Marston Moor, where his son, who became 7th Earl, was in the other Army. But later on he attached himself to the Royalists, and on being taken prisoner was confined at Berwick until the Restoration. Turning to the other line, we find the 5th Ld. Seton a zealous supporter of Mary Queen of Scots, but he had in consequence to flee to Flanders, where he drove a waggon for his living. At length in 1583 his position was transformed to that of Ambassador to France. His successor was in 1600 made 1st Earl of Winton in Scotland, but the 5th Earl was concerned in the rising of 1715 and consequently attainted; and though in 1840 the 13th Earl of Eglinton was "served" heir-male of the 4th Earl, it is the opinion of most authorities that the attainder is unrevoked. The U.K. Barony was awarded to the 12th Earl of E., and the Earldom to his successor.

The Irish Barony of Arden was conferred upon the wife of the 2nd Earl, whose son obtained that of U.K., the 2nd Earl himself receiving the Lovel and Holland Barony. The Baronetcy is open to the peculiar condition that the eldest son upon coming of age is to "exist a Baronet" at the same time with his father and possibly his grandfather, so that there may be even three Baronets in the same family concurrently. The courtesy-title of the Peerage would, however, keep the Baronetcy in the background in the case of a son.

Creations. Scot.: E. of Elgin and Ld. Bruce of Kinloss, 1633; E. of Kincardine and Bn. Bruce of Torry, 1647. U.K.: Bn. Elgin, 1849.—Sir Edwd. Bruce, Lord of Session and Ambassador to England, was in 1601-2 created Ld. Kinloss and in 1604 (orig.) Ld. Bruce of Kinloss. The 3rd Ld. Bruce was the recipient of the further honour of Earl of Elgin as above and Bn. Bruce of Whorlton (Eng. 1641), and his next successor received the additional Earldom of Ailesbury (q.v.), an older creation of that title, which expired in 1747, and with it the English Baronies of Bruce of Whorlton and of Skelton. The Kinloss Bny. was adjudged to the Duke of Buckingham in 1868, and now survives as a separate Peerage. Another Sir Edwd. Bruce, gt. nephew of his namesake, obtained the Kincardine Earldom, and the 9th Earl of this latter line eventually succeeded as 5th of the former. There were repeated instances in this line of the succession falling to brothers, whose terms of holding the title would naturally average much shorter than those of the Elgin line, which up till the time of their union passed regularly from father to son; hence the Kincardine numbering soon overtook that of the Elgin line. The U.K. Barony fell to the 8th Earl of E.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Bn. Burghley, 1571; E. of Exeter, 1605. U.K.: M. of Exeter, 1801.—The Rt. Hon. Sir Wm. Cecil, Sec. of State under Edwd. VI. and Elizabeth, and afterwards Lord High Treasurer and Chancellor of Cambridge University, was created Bn. Burghley; his elder son, his successor, was made Earl of Exeter, and the 10th Earl raised to the Marquessate (the younger son was made Earl of Salisbury). Tennyson's lyric ballad of "The Lord of Burleigh" (so he spells it) is founded upon fact, but in so slight a degree that the attaching of it to definite individuals was hardly justifiable, becoming as it does the falsification of an actual narrative: the characters ought to have been as imaginary as the incidents. So far from the hero of the story being the greatest Lord "in all the county," he was a plain "Mr.," and could have had no "majestic mansion" with which to surprise his bride. What is true is that in 1791 Henry Cecil, nephew and heir presumptive of the 9th Earl, but bearing at the time not even a courtesy-title, married (immediately after divorcing his first wife) the "village maiden," Sarah Hoggins of Bolas Magna, Salop. At that village they resided for two years until his accession to the Peerage made her a Countess; but she died in 1797, four years before his elevation to the Marquessate. Her daughter's daughter was mother of the late and present Dukes of Wellington. The "three fair children" is also correct, at least as far as enumeration goes; but beyond these few facts the story is simply a poetical dressing up.

CREATIONS. Eng.: Bn. Fauconberg, 1295 by writ; Bn. Conyers, 1509 by writ.—The 1st Bn., Walter de Fauconberg, is shown to have been summoned by Edward I. to a Parliamentary assembly at Shrewsbury in 1283 and again 1295, and he was one of the signatories to the letter of the Barons to the Pope in reference to the opposing claims of Edward and Boniface to be ruler of Scotland. The 6th Bn. was created Earl of Kent, but at his death in 1463 that title became extinct, and the Barony, which was strictly his wife's, fell at her decease into an abeyance of some four and a half centuries between their three daughters, the youngest of whom was wife of Sir Jno. Conyers. The son of these two, Sir Wm. Conyers, was created Bn. Conyers; he served at the siege of Norham Castle and at Flodden Field, and was Constable of Richmond and Middleham Castles. In the 18th century a Bnss. Conyers married the Marq. of Carmarthen, afterwards 5th Duke of Leeds, and the title remained in that Dukedom till 1859, when the death of the 7th Duke without issue or brother devolved the primary succession upon a cousin, but permitted the present Barony to pass to the son of his deceased sister. As stated under "Conyers," upon the death of the 12th Bn. of that title in 1888 an abeyance of four years ensued.

ff.—Note on the proper names commencing with ff or Ff:

The use of a double f, at the beginning of proper names, still affected by a few families, is merely a mistaken use in print of the written form of capital F which was in almost universal use, as a relic of mediæval script, up to the early part of last century. Most London leases, for instance, engrossed a century ago or even less, will show that not only proper names but all other nouns, which would have been printed with an initial F, were engrossed or written with a letter which in appearance amounts to two small f's intertwined. But there is no more reason why a man named "French" should have his name printed "ffrench" or "Ffrench," than that he should print ffreehold, ffire, ffloddon-ffield or fflea. In fact, the ancestors of every Briton, whose name begins with F to-day, wrote their names at one time with an intertwined "ff," although their names invariably appeared in print with a simple capital F. The Frenches, Farringtons, Folkes, Fieldens and Finches of to-day have thus no more warrant for affecting the double "f" in print than have the Fentons, Fields, Fosters, Frasers or any other family whose name begins with F. The whole mistake has arisen through their finding their names written in some old document with what they believed to be a double f, whereas in reality the letter was only the then usual form of a written capital F. To be logical, even in writing, these families should continue to write "the" as "ye."

CREATIONS. Scot.: Ld. of Garlies, 1607; E. of Galloway, 1623. Gt. Br.: Bn. Stewart of Garlies, 1796.—This house is descended from Sir Wm. Stewart, who was made a Knight Banneret about 1385, was Clerk of Audit to the King, Ambassador to England, Sheriff of Teviotdale and "The Forest" (co. Selkirk), and figured as a Captain at Otterburn (Chevy Chase), but was afterwards captured at Homildon Hill and while in prison put to death by Hotspur. The family records have been destroyed by fire, but he is believed, as stated by Burke, to have been a younger son of Sir Alex. Stewart of Darnley, whose eldest son, Sir John, was ancestor of the Earls and Dukes of Lennox and of Lord Darnley, from whom descended the Stuart line of Kings. An earlier ancestor of the family was Alexander, 4th Hereditary Lord Steward of Scotland, who was granted the Barony (i.e., the estate) of Garlies in reward for his services in defeating the Danes in 1263; this passed to his wife, then to her son John, Earl of Moray, and by him it was transferred to his uncle Sir Walter Stewart, and eventually to a kinsman, the above Sir William. A later Sir Alexander was in 1607 made Lord of Garlies, and in 1623 advanced to the Earldom. His son the 2nd Earl was made a Bt. before succession, but the creation was cancelled 1632. The 7th Earl obtained the British Barony. All the elder branches having become extinct, the Earl of Galloway is now the recognised head of the house of Stewart.

GARDNER BARONY (U.K. and Irel.). Succession contested between ALAN LEGGE Gardner, b. 1881, and ALAN HYDE Gardner, b. 1878.

CREATIONS. A Bt. Gt. Br. 1794; Bn. Gardner, Irel. 1800, U.K. 1806.—Adm. Sir Alan Gardner, M.P. for Plymouth and Westminster, a Lord of the Admiralty, and a distinguished officer under Earl Howe, obtained successively all of these titles.

 The 3rd Bn. died in 1883 leaving no legitimate male issue. Contested claims to the succession are now advanced by two 2nd cousins, both great grandsons of the 2nd son of the 1st Bn. The claimant till lately supposed to stand alone was Alan Hyde, 2nd son of the 2nd son just named; but he died in 1899, leaving a son, the above claimant Alan Legge. But a rival claim is raised by another Alan Hyde, grandson of the 3rd son of the above 2nd son, whose father (d. 1901) bore the same name, and who bases his claim upon an alleged irregularity in the marriage of his rival's grandfather, Stewart Wm. Gardner, which was effected with an Indian Begum, a cousin of his own, her grandfather, Wm. Gardner, having married an Indian princess who was adopted as a daughter by the Emperor of Delhi. The late claimant himself, the father of Alan Legge, was the third to marry a native Indian girl, the ceremony being performed in their case by a Methodist minister in the house of the claimant's father. His last rival, the Alan Hyde who died in 1901, was an artist living at Ipswich, where he assumed the title of Baron. His son, of the same name, now continues the rivalry. There have been four Alan Hydes in the pedigree—the son of the 2nd son (d. 1899, father of the claimant Alan Legge), and the 3rd son, with his own son and grandson, the rival claimant.

Wexford; town res., Collingwood Gdns., S.W.

CREATION. Ld. Gray, Scot. 1444.—The present Bnss. is sometimes given as the 20th in line. The contested point is whether it was Sir Andrew Gray (Kt.) or his untitled son of the same Christian name who was originally summoned as Ld. Gray; 'Burke' says distinctly the latter, and as the Union Roll places the Barony after that of Saltoun, created 1445, and as neither 'Burke' nor 'Debrett' goes earlier than 1444 as its starting-point, whereas the knighted Sir Andrew died in 1438, we are compelled in consistency to call this the 19th Barony, though possibly 'Foster' ('Lodge') may be right in dating it "before 1437." It was a matter of dispute almost at its beginning. On the death of the Bnss. 17th in line the succession devolved upon her 2nd cousin, the 14th Earl of Moray, by whom the Barony was held from 1878 till his death without issue, when the former title was released by the succession of his niece, the Bnss. 19th in line, who with her husband, the late Jas. Maclaren Smith, adopted the double form of Smith-Gray for themselves only.

CREATION. Bn. Grey de Ruthyn, Eng. 1324 by writ (see "Hastings, Marquessate," close of note).—The 1st Bn. by writ was Roger de Grey, who, according to 'Nicolas,' was son of the 3rd feudal Bn. Grey of Codnor (a line abeyant from 1496); but 'Burke' gives him as 2nd son of the 2nd Bn. Grey de Wilton (this line persisting till attainted in 1603 and eventually revived 1801 on the creation of the Wilton Earldom). The 4th to the 11th Bns. Grey de Ruthyn were also Earls of Kent, but this title passed to a cousin, one of whose descendants was made Marq. and Duke of Kent; but upon his death in 1740 all three titles expired, and the next appearance of the Dukedom was on its bestowal in 1799 on the father of Queen Victoria. Then we find the 17th Bn. Grey de Ruthyn created in 1717 Earl of Sussex, but that title lasted only to the 3rd Earl and 19th Bn. The Bnss. 21st in line married the 2nd Marq. of Hastings, their elder son succeeding to that title but dying before his mother; the 2nd son became 4th Marq. and 22nd Bn., but died without issue, the Marquessate expiring and the Bny. going into abeyance between his sisters.

CREATIONS. Bn. of Guilford, Eng. 1683; E. of Guilford, Gt. Br. 1752. "Lord North" is used as the courtesy-title of an eld. son, but it is unfortunate that the absence of any distinctive second title to the Earldom brings this into confusion with that of Bn. North.—Sir Francis North (Kt.), 2nd son of 4th Bn. North, a distinguished lawyer who had been Attorney-General and Lord Chief Justice of Common Pleas, was appointed Lord Keeper of the Great Seal and granted the Barony of Guilford. The 3rd Bn. succeeded as 7th Bn. North and was elevated to the Earldom. On the death of the 3rd Earl in 1802 the North Barony passed into abeyance between daughters until liberated as a distinct Peerage in 1841; the Guilford titles then went to a brother.

CREATIONS. Scot.: Bn. of Binning and Byres, 1613: E. of Haddington, 1619.—Sir Thos. Hamilton, a Lord of Session (as Lord Drumcairn), and afterwards Secretary of State, was successively awarded these two Peerages, the Earldom at first under the title of Melrose, but this was changed to Haddington by a new patent in 1627, retaining the original precedence. The 2nd Earl, who took the side of the Covenanters against the tyranny of King Charles and Laud, was in 1640 blown up in his castle by the treacherous connivance of one or more of those from within. The late 11th E., a K.T. and Repres. Peer, assumed by licence name of Arden after Baillie 1898, before succession, his father taking the addition Hamilton in the next year (this being the orig. surname of the family, for which the grandfather of that Peer had substituted Baillie). The present (12th) Earl does not continue Arden, which is, however, now assumed by Hon. Henry Robert, below.

CREATIONS. Bn. Dacre, Eng. 1321 by writ; Visc. Hampden, U.K. 1884.—Ranulph de Dacre, a distinguished soldier, was in the reign of Edward II. summoned to Parliament as 1st Bn. Dacre. In consequence of female succession, the surname changed from time to time, but that of Brand was brought in by the marriage in 1771 of the 8nss. 19th in line. The 9th Bn. was executed for being concerned in a deer-stealing affair in the course of which one of the keepers was killed. The 15th Bn. was made Earl of Sussex, but the title expired with himself in 1715, and was re-created in 1717 in the Grey de Ruthyn line. That of Teynham was also briefly associated by the 2nd marriage of the 18th Bnss. The Viscty. was awarded to the Rt. Hon. Sir Henry W. Brand, G.C.B., Speaker of the House of Commons 1872-84; six years after retirement he succeeded his brother as 23rd Bn. Dacre. The illustrious John Hampden, the patriot was one of the ancestors of the family in which this later Peerage was created, and out of which same family, as above stated, the present Viscty. has grown. One of the daughters married Sir Jno. Trevor, and a grandson of this pair, who had assumed the name of Hampden, succeeded to earl. Trevor Bny. and was in 1776 created Visc. Hampden. But both these titles became extinct, though the Viscty. is now revived.

Mary Anna Morgan, dau. of 1st Bn. Tredegar. Seats, Ashford Hall, Ludlow; Tregoyd, Three Cocks, Brecknocksh. (occupied by eld. son).

CREATIONS. Eng.: Visc. Hereford, 1550; a Bt. 1611.—There were Earls of Hereford from feudal times, the first recorded by Nicolas being the Count of Bretville in Normandy, commander of the van of the Conqueror's army at Hastings. Then we have Henry de Bohun (creation 1199), one of the 25 "Barons" appointed to enforce the observance of Magna Charta. His line became extinct in 1372, and in 1397 Henry Plantagenet, afterwards Henry IV., was made Duke of Hereford. This title was merged in the Crown, but that of Earl of Hereford was used conjointly with Northampton, Buckingham, and Perche, apparently without warrant, by Humphrey, Earl of Stafford, afterwards Duke of Buckingham (creation of 1444). The Viscty. now subsisting was conferred upon the 3rd Bn. Ferrers in recognition of his services in the French wars of Henry VIII. That Barony after a while fell into abeyance, but was revived as a separate Peerage, and eventually made into the present Earldom of that title, q.v. The 2nd Visc. Hereford was promoted to be Earl of Essex and of Ewe, the 2nd Earl being the unfortunate favourite of Queen Elizabeth; this title, however, lapsed on the death of the 3rd Earl, the distinguished General in the Parliamentary Army, simultaneously with the passing of the above Ferrers Barony into abeyance. The late 15th Visc. Hereford was an Hon. Canon of Durham.

CREATIONS. Bd. Herries, Scot. 1490.—Herbert Herries was by James IV. created 1st Scottish Ld. (the U.K. Bny. is extinct). The 7th Ld. became by his father's marriage 3rd Earl of Nithsdale; but the 9th Ld. and 5th Earl forfeited both his honours on being taken prisoner at Preston Pans in 1715, and would have been executed but for the aid of his wife in effecting his escape from the Tower. The Earldom lapsed altogether, but the Barony was revived by decision of the House of Lords in 1858, when Wm. Constable-Maxwell was awarded the title as 10th Bn. (Debrett, by counting the intermediate successors, makes him the 13th). The late 11th Bn. received a U.K. peerage, but it expired on his death without male issue. Female succession had changed the surname from Herries to Maxwell and then Constable; the father of the 10th Bn. (himself excluded by the attainder) assumed the recent compound form, but it now once more changes in the case of the present Peeress and her issue.

CREATIONS. Bn. Howard de Walden, Engd. 1597 by writ Bn. Seaford, U.K. 1826.—Lord Thos. Howard, K.G., son of the 4th Duke of Norfolk, was created Bn. Howard de Walden and six years later Earl of Suffolk: he is stated to have been mainly instrumental in discovering the Gunpowder Plot. On the death of the 3rd Earl that title went to a brother; but the Barony, being a creation by writ, passed into abeyance between two daughters, and so continued from 1689 to 1784, shortly after which it devolved upon the 4th Earl of Bristol as 5th Bn. On the death of this nobleman in 1803—his eldest son as well as the daughter and sole child of that son being both deceased—the Barony passed to the son of that daughter, who had married Chas. Rose Ellis, 1st Bn. Seaford; but the Earldom went to the Earl's 2nd son, subsequently created 1st Marq. of Bristol. The 4th Bn. Howard, a Field-Marshal in the Army (successor to the 3rd Earl of Suffolk), was created Bn. Braybrooke, but on his decease without issue that title parted off as a separate Peerage. The 6th Bn. was Minister at Stockholm, Lisbon, and Brussels. The family name has been successively Howard, Whitwell-Griffin, Hervey, and now Scott-Ellis.

Hylton Jolliffe, 1st Bt., M.P. for Petersfield, representative (as senior co-heir of an ancient line which began with Robert de Hilton, first summoned by writ in 1295, but at whose death the title fell into abeyance. Long previous even to this, however, and before the process of creation by writ had commenced, there were Barons Hilton of Hilton Castle, Co. Durham, whose title was held either by tenure or else by courtesy as "Barons of the Bishopric," described in Burke's "Extinct Peerages" as "sitting with a sort of provincial peerage in the Great Council of their ecclesiastical Palatine." The use of this title was continued up to the death in 1746 of Jno. Hilton, M.P. for Carlisle. Another Hilton Barony, apparently an offshoot of the preceding, was conferred upon Alexander de Hilton in 1332, but his daughter married Roger Widdington, one of whose descendants was made Bn. Widdington, so that this Hilton Barony became amalgamated with his own, and an attainder of the 4th Bn. W. in 1716 involved the extinction of this Hilton Barony.

KINGSALE, Baron. Michael Constantine de Courcy, 33rd Bn. (Premier Baron of Ireland): son of 32nd Bn.: b. May 8, 1855; suc. 1895; mar. 1880 his 1st cousin, Emily Frances Anne, dau. of the late Wm. Sinclair de Courcy. Seat, The Meads, Crowborough, Sussex.

Creation. Irel.: Bn. of Kingsale and Bn. of Ringrone, 1172 by tenure, stated to have been confirmed by patent 1397.—Sir John de Courcy, an English Knight, the famous founder of the family, is celebrated as having, in conjunction with his brother-in-law Sir Almericus Tristram (who obtained the tenure Barony of Howth), effected the conquest of Ulster; and again, after having given offence to King John, as having acted as English champion in a single combat with the champion of France (who however fled without striking a blow), thus regaining his sovereign's favour. The King, we are told in 'Burke,' had actually imprisoned him for a year; but upon receipt of the challenge from France, and finding no one else ready to accept it, Sir John was liberated for the purpose, with the above result of his antagonist being seized with panic and taking to flight. The two monarchs fraternised over this event, and joined in desiring to see an exhibition of Sir John's strength, upon which he cleft a massive helmet in twain at a single blow. This exploit so delighted his master that he asked him to choose whatever he should give him; whereupon the Knight replied that he had estates and titles enough, and would ask the privilege, for himself and all successors, of remaining covered in the royal presence. He died in 1219, apparently without issue, but soon after his death the Baronies of Kingsale and Ringrone are stated to have been granted to his kinsman, Miles de Courcy. The title of Earl of Ulster (q.v.) appears never to have been held by this line.

Sept. 30, 1852; suc. 1889; mar. 1884 the late Maj. Luis Ferdinand H. C. Morgan, who with herself assumed by licence, 1890, the additional name of Grenville, the last of her former five surnames (d. 1896). Seats, Stowe House and Moreton Ldg. (Maids Moreton), both nr. Buckingham.

CREATION. Ld. Kinloss, Scot. 1602 (see "Buckingham Dukedom").—Sir Edwd. Bruce (Kt.), who was twice Scottish Ambassador to England, was 1st Ld. Kinloss, the 3rd Ld. being made Earl of Elgin, and the 4th, Earl of Ailesbury, whilst the 7th, by a shifting of the line, was the 3rd Duke of Chandos. All these and other titles have either lapsed or separated off, leaving the Kinloss Barony wholly to itself. The present Bnss. is called by some authorities the 8th in line, and correctly as far as assumption of the title decides. On the death of the 6th Bn. (who was also 4th Earl of Elgin) the succession devolved upon the 3rd Duke of Chandos (last of the line extinct 1789), who never assumed the title, nor did his daughter and heiress, who married the 1st Duke of Buckingham and Chandos of the line created 1822, nor again their son the 2nd Duke (to whom the succession de jure passed from his mother), so that the 3rd Duke had in 1868 to substantiate his claim to the Barony before the House of Lords.

CREATIONS. Scot.: Ld. Falconer, 1647; E. of Kintore and Ld. Keith of Inverurie, 1677, with succession to heirs female in default of male. U.K.: Bn. Kintore, 1838. "Lord Inverurie" is the courtesy-title of the heir when a firstborn son.—Sir Wm. Keith was created Earl Marischal of Scotland about 1458, and this honour passed by hereditary descent like that of Earl Marshal in England. The 3rd son of the 6th Earl Marischal, the Hon. Sir Jno. Keith, was in 1660 made Hereditary Knight Marischal of Scotland in recognition of his having concealed and so preserved the Scottish regalia during the Civil War; and in 1677 the above Earldom and Lordship were added. The 2nd Earl, however, joined in the rebellion of 1715, for which he was deprived of the Knight Marischalship, though of that only. But his relative the 10th Earl Marischal, who had participated in the same rebellion, was attainted, so that on coming to succeed in 1761 to the Peerage titles he was disqualified and they remained suspended till his death. A daughter of the above 2nd Earl, however, had married the 5th Ld. Falconer (a title originally conferred upon a son of Sir Alex. Falconer), and their grandson Anthony Adrian, 8th Ld., now became 5th Earl of Kintore. So the matter is stated in 'Burke,' but the present Peer regards the predecessor of this last as an actual holder of the title, and thus considers himself the 10th Earl. The U.K. Barony was granted to the Earl ordinarily accounted the 7th.

CREATIONS. Irel.: Ld. of Kerry and Lixnaw, 1172, by tenure; E. of Kerry and Visc. Clanmaurice, 1723; Visc. Fitzmaurice and Bn. Dunkeron, 1751; E. of Shelburne, 1753. Scot.: Bn. Nairne, 1681, restored 1824 (the Barony of Keith, once attached to this, has been extinct from 1867). Gt. Br.: Ld. Wycombe, Bn. of Chipping Wycombe, 1760; M. of Lansdowne, E. of Wycombe, and Visc. Calne and Calstone, 1784.—One of the three triple Peerages (INTROD. p. 41). Under that of Ireland, which is much the earliest, we find Thos. Fitzmaurice, grandson of a sister of Strongbow, being made 1st Ld. of Kerry and Lixnaw, the 21st Lord obtaining the Earldom with its accompanying Viscounty. The second son of the latter was created Visc. Fitzmaurice and Bn. Dunkeron, shortly afterwards Earl of Shelburne, and still later Bn. Wycombe in the Peerage of Gt. Britain. His son, the 2nd Earl of Shelburne, who was a General in the Army, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and eventually Prime Minister, obtained the Marquessate with the associated British titles. The 3rd Marq. was Chancellor of the Exchequer and Lord President of the Council, afterwards till 1858 a Cabinet Minister without portfolio. The Scottish Barony of Nairne, as stated in the text, has only come to this house through the marriage of the present Peer's father (4th Marq. K.G., Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs) with the late Baroness. This last Peerage was originally conferred upon Robt. Nairne, an advocate, who had been imprisoned ten years for fidelity to the house of Stuart, but whose successor, by remaining steadfast to that line and refusing allegiance to William III., forfeited the title, which was only restored in 1824. A great granddaughter of the 2nd Bn. married the only Visc. Keith, and their daughter in 1837 succeeded as Bnss. Nairne and Keith on the death of the 6th Bn. N.; but the K. title expired at her own death, being limited to herself and heirs male.—The surname Petty, now practically disused, is derived from Sir Wm. Petty (father of the 1st Earl of Kerry's wife), who was distinguished by accomplishing (1664-6) the survey of a large portion of Ireland; the name was first assumed by his grandson, the above 1st Earl of Shelburne.

Creation. E. of Leicester and Visc. Coke, U.K. 1837.—This Earldom, which first appears in Sir H. Nicolas's pages with the remote date of 1103, has undergone a long succession of extinctions and forfeitures till it has become distinctly a modern line. The most notable among former holders of the title, excepting only Sir Simon de Montfort, was the discarded favourite of Queen Elizabeth, a son of the Duke of Northumberland. He (Sir Robert Dudley, K.G.) was the only representative of that creation, and later extinct lines were started in 1618, 1744, and 1784 (for the last of these see under "Townshend, Marq."). An illustrious ancestor of the present Peer is Sir Edward Coke, knighted by James I. and appointed Chief Justice of the King's Bench. A descendant, Thos. Wm. Coke, for many years M.P. for Norfolk, was the recipient of the present titles. The creation of 1744 was also to a Coke. It has been noticed that from the birth of the 1st Earl in the present line to the death of his late son there occurred the long interval of 157 years (1752—1909), the 2nd Peer having been born when his father was over 70, and himself having reached the age of 86. The 2nd Earl was twice married and had eighteen children, the eldest of whom was 49 years older than the youngest, who now has a niece 27 years older than himself. The 1st Earl headed a deputation to George III. in favour of recognising the independence of the American Colonies, and at a later date he delivered a violent attack upon that Monarch's memory, thus deferring for a time his own elevation to the Peerage. When at length this elevation did occur he took the title "Leicester of Holkham," on account of the 2nd Marq. Townshend having been constituted Earl of Leicester, and that title being borne by his supposed heir, who sat as such in the Commons whilst the new Earl sat in the Lords. But an Act of Parliament pronounced that son to be no son, and the Townshend Earldom of Leicester became extinct in 1855. Still, from 1837 up till this last year the two Earldoms of Leicester actually existed side by side.

LEINSTER (pron. Linster), Duke of. Maurice FitzGerald, 6th Duke (Irel., Premier Duke, Marq., and Earl), sits as Visc. Leinster (Gt. Br.), was a Page at Coronation of King Edward: son of 5th D.: b. March 1, 1887; suc. 1893; unmarrd. Seat, Carton, Maynooth, Co. Kildare.

Creations. Irel.: E. of Kildare, 1316; Bn. Offaly, 1620; M. of Kildare and E. of Offaly, 1761; D. of Leinster, 1766. Gt. Br.: Visc. Leinster, 1747. U.K.: Bn. Kildare, 1870.—Gerald Fitzmaurice FitzGerald, the 1st Bn. (tenure), was son of Maurice FitzGerald, "patriarch of the Irish Geraldines," and a distinguished warrior, who, with the aid of Strongbow and a mere 600 English troops, defeated 30,000 Irish, who, under Roderick, King of Ireland, had invested Dublin, the latter monarch having previously driven the King of Leinster from his territory, whilst the purpose of Maurice and Strongbow was to reinstate him. The 2nd Bn. Offaly (tenure again) introduced the Franciscans and Dominicans into Ireland; the 6th was created Earl of Kildare, and it was in his time that the family coat of arms, containing three monkeys, was adopted, in consequence, it is said, of this Earl, when an infant, having been rescued from a fire by a tame ape, which tenderly bore him aloft into one of the towers. Several Earls of Kildare have figured in English history. The 7th was Lord Deputy of Ireland and afterwards Lord Chancellor. The 8th, called "Geroit Mor" (i.e. Gerald the Great), was for 33 years Lord Deputy and Lord Justice, and was also a warrior famed for his strength. He was deceived into supporting Lambert Simnel in his claims to the throne, and engaged in the conflict with Henry VII.'s troops, but he afterwards made his peace with the King, and in the following year gave valiant aid against Perkin Warbeck. The 9th Earl incurred the hatred of Wolsey and was committed to the Tower, where he died from horror at the sentence of excommunication pronounced against him for the murder of Archbp. Alen, committed by his followers. The 10th Earl his son, in consequence, threw off his English allegiance and revolted, but surrendered under promise of pardon, which Henry VIII. violated and had him hanged, drawn, and quartered. The 11th Earl, then but a boy of twelve, had to flee the country, and was housed and brought up at Rome by Cardinal Pole. Edward VI. restored him his estates, and Mary his honours. The 20th Earl was constituted Marquess and Duke, and awarded also the British Viscounty. The Kildare Barony was created for the heir of the 3rd Duke during the lifetime of his father.

Creations. Scot.: Bn. Melville, orig. 1616, extended remainder under which the title continued 1627. E. of Leven and Bn. Balgonie, 1641; E. of Melville, Visc. Kirkaldie, and Bn. Raith, Monymail, and Balwearie, 1690.—Sir Robt. Melville (Kt.), a P.C. of Scotland and Ambassador to England, the 1st Bn., was distinguished by his dauntless endeavour to prevent the execution of Mary Queen of Scots, which boldness of his caused Elizabeth to threaten his life; but after that arbitrary woman had passed away, King James elevated him to the Peerage as Bn. Melville, also appointing him Vice-Chancellor and an Extra Lord of Session (as Ld. Murdocarnie). The 4th Bn. obtained from William III. the Earldom of Melville with its accompanying Viscounty and Baronies, though previously he had been involved in the rebellion of Monmouth, and been in consequence attainted. The Earldom of Leven had a separate commencement, having been conferred upon Gen. Sir Alex. Lesley, a distinguished commander, who, having first served under Gustavus Adolphus, afterwards led a Scottish Army of the Covenanters in an invasion of England against Charles I., and had an important share in the victory of Marston Moor, but who, upon the treaty with that monarch so won his favour that he raised him to this Peerage, and obtained his continued services upon the Royalist side. His granddaughter married the 1st Earl of Melville, and thus, on the failure of the direct Leven line, the two Earldoms came to be united. The 13th Earl was a K.G. and a Scottish Representative Peer; also Lord High Commissioner to the Church of Scotland from 1868 to 1905. There have been two Countesses in the Leven line, and the present Peer will be reckoned the 15th or 13th according as these are or are not included in the numbering. Our practice in this work is to count the entire line, male and female alike; but some authorities allow themselves to vary from one plan to the other, doubtless to suit the preference of individual Peers. The present Earl's father advised us to call him the 13th.

CREATIONS. Scot.: Ld. Lindsay of the Byres, 1445; E. of Lindsay and Ld. Parbroath, 1633; Visc. of Garnock and Ld. Kilbirnie, Kingsburn, and Drumry, 1703.—Sir Jno. Lindsay (Kt.), Justiciary of the Northern part of Scotland, was created Ld. Lindsay of the Byres, the 10th Ld. received the Earldom, and the son of his 2nd son was separately created Visc. of Garnock, the latter's grandson eventually succeeding as 5th Earl of Lindsay. Meantime a complication had set in to this higher title, causing it for some 166 years to be associated with the Earldom of Crawford. The succession to both Earldoms was open to "heirs male general" (INTROD.), but upon the 16th Earl of Crawford having no issue, he in 1642 obtained a new charter diverting the descent to the "direct heirs" of his friend and remote kinsman, the 1st Earl of Lindsay, with reversion, upon the failure of such heirs, to the previous line of remainder, i.e., his own collaterals. Thus this 1st Earl of Lindsay took the title of Earl of Crawford-Lindsay, and his five next successors continued to hold both titles; but in 1808 the "direct heirs" of the Lindsay line failed, and then, in virtue of the above charter and the regular law for "heirs general," the lines divided, and each went to its own collaterals—the Lindsay Earldom to the 26th Lord Lindsay of the Byres, and that of Crawford to the 6th Earl of Balcarres. It must be observed that the above Earls all along had held this Lordship of the Byres, but that in 1808 a reversion had to be made to a descendant of the 4th Ld., followed in 1878, as decided by the House of Lords, by another reversion, but only to the descendant of another son of the same Lord. The 4th Earl of Lindsay, 20th of Crawford, distinguished himself in the wars with the Turks and French, commanding in 1740 the Black Watch, then styled "the gallant 42nd" and "Lord Crawford-Lindsay's Highlanders."—The name of Bethune was first assumed in 1779 by the grandfather of the 9th Earl de jure, who, however, never adopted the title, and was known as Sir Henry Lindsay-Bethune; he was created a Baronet in 1836 for his military achievements in Persia, but this honour expired with his son the 10th Earl.

Vane-Tempest, Bt., and assumed the name of Vane in place of Stewart, that of Tempest being added by the 5th Marq., and the original Stewart only restored as a further addition by the late 6th Marq., who was a K.G. and had been Lord-Lieut. of Ireland.

LOUDOUN, Earl of. Charles Edward Hastings Abney-Hastings, 11th Earl (Scot.), sits as Bn. Botreaux (Eng.); Hereditary Bearer of a Golden Spur at Coronations, a D.L. for Ayrshire, late Lieut. Leic. Yeom.: son of Chas. F. Abney-Hastings (née Clifton, created Bn. Donington after death of his wife), and of the late Ctss. of Loudoun, sist. of 4th and last M. of Hastings, on the extinction of whose Marquessate the Earldom and other Scottish titles passed to this lady, the English Baronies falling into abeyance, till terminated in her favour in 1871; b. Jan. 5, 1855; suc. to Earldom &c. (C.) on death of his mother 1874, to Donington Barony on that of his father 1895; widower, having mar. 1880 Hon. Creations. Scot.: Ld. Campbell of Loudoun 1601; E. of Loudoun and Ld. Tarrinzean and Mauchline, 1633. Eng. (all by writ): Ld. Botreaux, 1368; Ld. Hungerford, 1426; Ld. de Molines, 1445; Ld. Hastings de Hastings, 1461; Bn. Hastings de Hungerford, 1482. U.K.: Bn. Donington, 1880. "Ld. Mauchline" is the courtesy-title of an eld. son.—Sir Hugh Campbell, Sheriff of Ayr, a descendant of the ancestor of the Dukes of Argyll, was created Ld. Campbell of Loudoun. His granddaughter, Bnss. in her own right, married Sir Jno. Campbell, son of Sir Colin Campbell of Glenorchy, and her husband was awarded the Loudoun Earldom with its accompanying Baronies. Of the English titles it is sufficient here to explain that those of Botreaux, De Molines, and Hungerford had become united in Mary, heiress of the 4th Ld. Hungerford, who married the heir to the Hastings Barony, which afterwards became a Marquessate, this last becoming extinct on the lapse of male heirs, whilst the Baronies went into abeyance, from which they were liberated in 1871. They had come into the Loudoun line through the marriage of Sir Jno. Rawdon, 1st Earl of Moira, with Lady Eliz. Hastings, who succeeded to them on the death of her brother the 10th Earl of Huntingdon. For the U.K. Barony of Donington see the text. See also Bnss. Grey de Ruthyn and Hastings Marquessate.

The 6th in his line was outlawed by the Parliament in 1641 for the support he gave to the Stuarts, and as his son and successor continued that support into the reign of James II., the force of the unrevoked outlawry was revived to exclude from Parliament the next (8th) holder of the title, and this was not reversed until 1798 during the tenure of the 11th Baron.

Creations. Ld. Lovat, Scot. between 1458 and 1464, U.K. 1837.—Hugh Fraser, one of the hostages for James I. of Scotland's ransom when set at liberty in England (1424), was given by that monarch the Barony of Kinnell, which is considered by some, though hardly by Burke, to have constituted him 1st Ld. His grandson of the same name, who married a daughter of Ld. Glamis, was created Ld. Lovat, or Ld. Fraser of Lovat. An unhappy episode in the family history was enacted by the 11th Ld. and the eldest daughter of the 9th. They eloped together, but the woman, who on her father's death had styled herself Baroness, returned to her mother and married Alex. Mackenzie. The Court of Session eventually deprived her of her title and gave it in 1730 to her former lover. He however had in the interim of over 30 years distinguished himself by a further course of violence. He was in 1698 attainted and sentenced to death for seizing the estates of his intended spouse ; the sentence not being carried out, he forcibly possessed himself of her own mother and compelled her to marry him, and for this he was outlawed in 1701. His crimes being gradually condoned by time, he was, as just stated, at length awarded the Peerage ; but, taking part in the rebellion of 1745, he was impeached and executed on Tower Hill. After the death of his youngest son (who did not bear the title) the succession passed to a descendant of the 4th, upon whom the U.K. Barony was conferred.
